

If you want to learn more about Appreciative Inquiry.....

WEBSITES:

There are some excellent websites that provide online tools, case studies, free articles, bibliographies, background information, etc.

<http://appreciativeinquiry.case.edu/>

This is Appreciative Inquiry Commons, begun by one of the “founders” of the AI concept, Dr. David Cooperrider. It is continually updated and a rich resource for beginners and seasoned practitioners alike.

<http://www.taosinstitute.net/>

The Taos Institute was founded by Dr. David Cooperrider and Diana Whitney. Access it for more articles, tools, and listings of workshops conducted by the institute.

www.ntl.org

Home page for NTL: the National Training Laboratory for Applied Behavioral Science. Among its many offerings, NTL conducts a 7 day workshop to introduce the practitioner to AI as well as another offering that is in the form of a practicum where the participant conducts an AI with an actual client with guidance of the faculty.

AI Practitioner online Journal

To subscribe to the AI Practitioner, a quarterly electronic journal dedicated to Appreciative Inquiry: www.aipractitioner.com

Listserv:

<http://lists.business.utah.edu/mailman/listinfo/ailist>

Access this web address for subscription information to this discussion group. The Appreciative Inquiry Discussion List is hosted by the David Eccles School of Business at the University of Utah. Jack Brittain is the list administrator.

*Mary Jo Greil, President of the Carson Greil Group, LLC
6555 Quince Road, Suite 525
Memphis, TN 38119
901-759-3084 or mj@carsongreil.com*